Description:

About the Author Known for presenting the Scripture in living color, Christian speaker, author, and ministry leader Beth Moore brings joy and excitement in Christ to life through words. Her deep love for the Savior is obvious; her style of speaking electric. She loves the Lord, loves to laugh, and loves to be with His people. Beth first realized God was seizing her future for full-time ministry at the age of 18. She conceded all rights to the Lord she had loved since childhood. Being confident of God's calling on her life, she finished her degree at Southwest Texas State University where she met and married Keith Moore. In the years that followed, Beth served the Lord by teaching Mothers' Day Out, speaking at women's luncheons, retreats, and seminars, leading Christian aerobics, and teaching Sunday School. At the request of her first Bible study class, she wrote daily homework on the Old Testament Tabernacle. That material later became Beth's first published Bible study, A Woman's Heart, God's Dwelling Place. Ten Bible studies and numerous books have followed. Beth speaks at conferences all over the United States and enjoys getting to serve women of every age and denomination. She is passionate about women knowing and loving the Word of God, which she says is life out of the pit for her. Beth and Keith praise God for 28 years of marriage. They enjoy traveling, hiking, drinking coffee on the back porch, eating Mexican food, making each other laugh, and being grandparents. The Moores live in Houston, Texas, with their dogs, Beanie and Sunny. They have two adult daughters, Amanda and Melissa. Amanda and her husband, Curtis, serve at a church in the Dallas area and have an 18 month old son named Jackson. Melissa, who shares her mother's appreciation for original languages, recently received her Master's degree in Biblical exegesis.
